

Directions to Lowell National Historical Park

Lowell National Historical Park is located in downtown Lowell, Massachusetts. We strongly recommend that all visitors approach Lowell via Interstate 495 or Route 3. From either of these major highways take exit marked "Lowell Connector" to Exit 5B.

Follow Thorndike Street until you pass under a rotary, then bear right onto Dutton Street. At the first set of traffic lights turn right into the Visitor Center Parking Lot.

The approach to the Park from the Lowell Connector is clearly marked with brown and white signs which read "Lowell National & State Parks". These signs lead you to the Visitor's Parking Lot adjacent to the Park Visitor Center.

"ESPECIALLY FOR BUS DRIVERS"

All bus drivers must enter the lot via the Dutton Street entrance and proceed to the "Unloading Area" as indicated on the map below. The "Unloading Area" is located near the flag poles. Parking in this area or along the curbing is prohibited.

Bus parking is located in the bay closest to the Merrimack Canal at the far end. Please park PARALLEL to the canal and leave room for other busses to park.

If drivers leave busses: Do not leave any valuables inside and lock all doors.

When picking up groups return to the "Unloading Area".

Emergency help is available at the Visitor Center.
